Water Still A Problem

Likely to Become More Acute in Illinois, Jones Commission Reports

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Illinois' water problems are likely to become more acute despite the state's vast water resources, the legislative Water and Drought Study Commission indicated today.

Statewide, Illinois has adequate water supplies, but the water is not equally available in all areas. Also more intensive conservation practices are needed to offset effects of periodic droughts, the study group said.

The commission, set up in 1955 after the state suffered through a three-year drought, included the following points in its report to the General Assembly:

—About 99 billion gallons of rainfall are precipitated in the state in an average day.

—More than 23 billion gallons of water are carried daily by the state's interior streams, in addition to the flow of the Mississippi, Ohio and Wabash rivers on the state's borders and water available from Lake Michigan.

Will Introduce Bill

—About 4 per cent of the state's rainfall ultimately seeps through to underground strata as ground-water storage.

—Average daily per capita use of water is 250 gallons in the Chicago area and 120 gallons down state. Industrial use boosts the average to 736 gallons in the East St. Louis area and 680 gallons in the Peoria area.

—33 billion gallons of water daily are drawn from the soil by growing crops.

—Uncoordinated and poorly planned well drilling results in rapid dropping of the water table in some areas.

Sen. Glen O. Jones (R-Harrisburg), chairman of the commission, said the group's recommendations would be incorporated in a bill which will be introduced in the Legislature in the next few weeks.

He said the recommendations include strengthening the existing water resources and flood control board with additional funds and staff.

"The primary resources policy of the state should be one of development and conservation... guided by the knowledge and investigation," the report said.

Need More Study

The existing water resources board, designed to coordinate state water problems, is made up of the directors of the Public Works, Conservation, Agriculture, Registration and Education and Health departments. The commission urged that it be reorganized to consist of five members to be appointed by the governor, and authorized to employ an adequate staff.

New water legislation was recommended on the basis of the study.

Jones said a much more comprehensive study would be required to detail adequately the state's water problems and recommend solutions.

Most critically needed data, the commission reported, included basic geological studies, hydrologic studies and chemical studies, to further detail the problems involving water resources.

Also needed, the report said, was a more intensive program of conservation in watershed areas, and conservation in industrial water use.

Refinements?

Women, Pigs Attached to Soviet Expedition

McMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (AP)—The lone American scientist attached to the Soviet Antarctic expedition said today the Russians have two refinements not found in the U. S. expedition—women and pigs.

Meteorologist Gordon D. Cartwright, 47, Newcastle, Pa., was interviewed by United Press here by radio from the Russian camp on the Indian Ocean side of the continent.

He has been with the Russians for more than a month and will remain there through the winter. In exchange, a Soviet scientist will winter over at the U. S. International Geophysical Year Antarctic headquarters at Little America.

Cartwright said the Russian expedition ship Ob has 3 women scientists and there are 8 to 10 women crewmembers on other ships.

None are at the Soviet land bases, however, and none will remain the winter although hundreds of Soviet women applied for permission to join the expedition, he said.

Cartwright reported that Russian ship captains said the women are "very efficient on ships and no difficulties whatsoever have been experienced with mixed crews."

The American scientist said he discovered the Russians were raising 40 pigs at their Mirny base and had imported eight tons of soil for an "experimental garden."

He did not say how either project was faring but both are unique for this frozen continent.

Mirny is 1,400 miles from the U. S. base at McMurdo Sound. Both are equidistant from the South Pole.

Cartwright said the Russian camp is modern, well-equipped and comfortable. His description made it sound comparable to the facilities at the U. S. base.

But the Soviets' clothing, he said, "seems superior in appearance, variety and utility. All personnel are equipped with leather and fur garments."

Her home was at 222 South Main.

Mrs. Horning was the daughter of Fount and Maria Tyler and was born in Saline County Dec. 1, 1880. She was married in 1901 to Ralph W. Horning who passed away Dec. 16, 1953. The two of them resided in Harrisburg all their lives.

Surviving are the following children: Mrs. L. C. (Ruth) Duncan, Hinsdale, Ill.; Mrs. L. N. (Geneva) Davenport, Harrisburg; Harry Horning, Harrisburg; Ralph Horning Jr., Ft. Pearce, Fla.; Kenneth Baker Horning, Norman, Okla.; one brother, Percy Tyler of Harrisburg, 10 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

She was a member of the First Methodist church.

Omaha Man Fatally Stricken in Truck

Charles A. Pearce, 47, well known farmer of the Omaha community, died suddenly while driving a truck at 8:20 a. m. today four miles east of Omaha. He had been under treatment for a heart ailment, State Policeman Adolph A. Sweat, who investigated the accident, reported.

Leon Spence, 63, of Norris City and Gary Sanders, 60, of Omaha, who were with Mr. Pearce in the truck, were uninjured.

They were gathering cattle for a trip to the stockyards when Mr. Pearce was fatally stricken. The truck ran into a ditch but did not turn over.

Judge Byron O. House, Justice Candidate, Meets with Voters Here

Circuit Judge Byron O. House, Republican nominee for Supreme Court justice in the Feb. 25 special election, was in Harrisburg today contacting friends and meeting other voters.

Judge House, from Nashville, Ill., is seeking the post because of a vacancy created when Justice Ralph Maxwell of Nashville died Aug. 29. His Democratic opponent is Francis Patrick Hanagan of Benton.

Judge House will be in the county again before the election.

Twenty-four counties in the First Supreme Court district will vote in this special election.

Red Cross Pleased At Success of Bloodmobile Visit

Local Red Cross officials today expressed their pleasure at the success of last Tuesday's Bloodmobile visit to Harrisburg, when 148 prospective donors reported and 109 pints of blood were taken.

The disparity between the number of prospects reporting and the actual number of donors accepted was largely due to turn-downs because of colds, but the county still receives credit for everyone who reported, and the ratio of those appointments was much more satisfactory this visit than at any other, one Red Cross spokesman said.

Twelve of the donors were from outside Saline county, and those donors were especially to be congratulated, the official said.

Rapid Growth

Population Climbs to 170 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—The population of the United States, growing by unprecedented numbers, hit the 170 million mark today.

The Census Bureau, which estimated the total, said the rate of growth will continue to rise rapidly. The largest increases in recent years have been among children—in the school and pre-school age groups.

The 170 million estimate was noted on a huge electric chart in the lobby of the Commerce Department building. The chart signals a birth every 8 seconds, a death every 21 seconds and the arrival of an immigrant every 2 minutes. Every 12 seconds, one American is added to the total population.

The bureau said the population has grown by nearly 19 million since the last official census in 1950 when the population stood at 151.1 million. The increase in the past 7 years was almost the same as that in the 10-year period between 1940 and 1950.

Census officials said the number of children of elementary school age increased by 31.7 per cent between 1950 and 1956 to a new total of 292 million. This was nearly three times the 11.2 per cent rate of increase for all age groups.

There also were larger than average increases of 15.6 per cent in the pre-school age group, 13.5 per cent in the high school age group, and 18.3 per cent among persons over 65 years of age.

By state, the biggest growth between 1950 and last year was nearly 3 million in California.

No Reason is Given for Sudden Change

Ex-Minister Held Office During Polish, Hungarian Actions

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union dropped Dmitri T. Shepilov as foreign minister today after only nine months in office—the nine months of Hungary and Poland. Andrei Gromyko was promoted to replace him.

The action was taken following secret meetings of the Soviet Communist Party Central Committee Wednesday and Thursday.

Shepilov, 51, former editor of the Communist Party organ Pravda, replaced V. M. Molotov only last June. The new foreign minister was first deputy to both men.

Shepilov now becomes one of the eight secretaries of the Communist Party Central Committee under party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev.

The official Tass news agency announcement of Shepilov's removal gave no reason for the sudden government change. It said only that he was "released" in connection with a transfer to other work.

Nikolai S. Patolichev was named to take over Gromyko's former spot as first deputy foreign minister.

Shepilov generally was associated with Soviet policy in the Middle East. It was his visit to Cairo while still editor of Pravda which preceded agreements for shipment of Communist arms to Egypt.

Surprise to Observers

The new foreign minister, Gromyko, is well known to the West. He spoke for the Soviet Union in many of the major United Nations debates in New York. He also has attended most of the international conferences since World War II.

Shepilov's last major task as foreign minister was his foreign policy report to the Supreme Soviet (parliament) last week. It was then that he launched the new Soviet "hands off" doctrine for the Middle East, generally interpreted as Moscow's counter to the Eisenhower Doctrine.

The shakeup came as a complete surprise to Moscow observers who recalled the starring role played by Shepilov at the meeting of the Supreme Soviet.

Drowns Near Cave-in-Rock

CAVE-IN-ROCK, Ill. (AP)—A carpenter drowned today during construction of a new fluorspar mine shaft near here.

Roy Morgan Phillips, 44, of near Marion, Ky., fell eight feet from a platform into 20 feet of water at the bottom of the 804-foot shaft.

The body was recovered after a half hour of rescue attempts.

The accident occurred in a project of the Ozark-Mahoning Mining Co. Phillips was employed by a Rosiclare contractor, Wayne KnKight, who is sinking the shaft for the company.

Jesse Clarida officiating. Burial will be in the Salem cemetery. The Thornton funeral home in Carrier Mills is in charge.

Crossville Man Dies of Burns

Jasper Brown, 88, of near Crossville, critically burned in an explosion in his farm home Wednesday, died Thursday in Carmi hospital. The elderly man was burned when a coal stove in his frame home exploded as he threw flammable liquid in it trying to start a fire.

About Town

And Country

By TIMOTHEUS T.

YESTERDAY, Dr. Clark R. Yost of Eldorado listed what he considered the Great Anniversaries of Americans and declared "This crucial year is a time to assess the contributions of some of our great statesmen to our national life."

"OF ALL" the great characters that stretch across our history as a great mountain range, one lofty peak, robed in eternal purity and deathless majesty, stands visible above all—Abraham Lincoln," Dr. Yost stated.

Then he asked:

"What then of Washington? He is the granite base of the mighty range. But for him it is doubtful that we could have our federal Constitution and Union. He was the First Gentleman of Virginia, the master farmer, the trusted administrator of estates, the great patriot and soldier, and the wisest statesman of his time."

"Probably Alexander Hamilton, who had only one year in college (Kings College, now Columbia University), was the most intellectual man and the most brilliant economist and fiscal expert in our national life.

"At 17 he landed in Boston from Puerto Rico almost friendless. He proceeded immediately to New York. At 17 he was a pamphleteer and leader in the patriot cause.

"At 19 he was commander of an artillery company and at 20 he was an aide to General Washington. He was a leader in New York State affairs and in the Continental Congress when 25, was one of the first to point out the defects of the Articles of Confederation, and it was his report which led to the calling of the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia in 1787.

"Better than any other statesman he presented the case for the MEAT CUTTING AND COOKING demonstrations were held in Wesley Center Thursday morning and afternoon with persons in attendance from Saline and adjoining counties, including girls and their instructors from several home economics departments of local area high schools. The meeting, part of a state-wide series, was sponsored jointly by the Illinois Agriculture Association, the Saline County Farm Bureau and the National Livestock and Meat Board. Moreland Martin, veteran in the meat cutting business, was demonstrating the proper way to cut beef when the above photo was made. The cutting and cooking of all types of meats were demonstrated throughout the day and 125 pounds of meat was given away in the afternoon. Arthur Seeds of the IAA, Miss Joanne Krinzen, Miss Delores Smith, Monte Fleet and Mr. Martin of the National Livestock and Meat Board were present to carry out the demonstrations.

The Moment to Speak

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

From many sides the warnings of inflation mount higher. Public figures of power and responsibility decline to believe that our prosperity is foolproof.

Basically the dangers are put into two categories: the dizzy wage-price spiral and heavy government spending.

President Eisenhower isn't asking now for federal controls to check the wage-price surge. He is appealing to business and labor to apply the brakes themselves.
He hopes this will be done, for he thinks government economic controls are foreign to our system of enterprise.

Nevertheless, many lawmakers appear to feel his warning implies a threat to seek controls if voluntary measures fail. For the President seems firm in his conviction that inflation cannot be allowed to run unchecked.

He has put the problem squarely up to the men in America who manage and operate this booming economy. He believes they can keep inflation properly halted if they will only use self-restraint.

As for heavy government spending, that looks on the surface to be a greatly different problem.
But it, too, gets back to ordinary Americans themselves.

Government today is caught in a difficult box. Many high officials, including the President, recognize the importance of holding expenses down tight. On the other hand, they are beset by swelling demands for fresh outlays for highways, schools, hospitals and the like.

Their task would be considerably eased if many more of the federal reorganization plans urged by the Hoover commission had been adopted. But here, again, lobbyist pressures from those who benefit from old arrangements have blocked needed action.

Billions might be saved if a good share of these plans could be translated into reality.

Perhaps this still could happen if only the members of Congress could hear from the biggest lobby of them all—the American people speaking in full voice.

Were they to go on record as strongly favoring these reorganization economies, the pressures of the special interest lobbies would crumble. History indicates that no government at any level can ignore the whole people on any issue—once they are aroused to speak.

But their massive pressure cannot be felt, as so often, it is silent and unexpressed. They must use the vocal power they have.

At this moment in time, it still is in the hands of average Americans—businessmen, workers, citizens—whether the pitfalls of inflation can be avoided in a way that will assure us all maximum freedom.

If we don't speak and act, then the perils will be met by putting us in tighter government harness.
The choice, today, is ours.

Tomorrow it may not be.

Living Dangerously

Already well publicized is the fact that America set a new record of 40,000 highway traffic fatalities in 1956. But it is still astonishing to learn that altogether last year some 95,000 Americans lost their lives in all kinds of accidents.

As some of us pick up our papers to read of air crashes and highway mishaps, we perhaps feel a sense of comfort that we are "safe" in our homes. But in 1956 there were 27,500 people who lost their lives in home accidents, according to the National Safety Council. Falls accounted for a considerable share of these.

Some 14,300 persons died in accidents at work, victims of the always severe hazards of our industrial processes.

We can't avoid the harsh fact.
Life in a modern industrial society is studded with risks. There is no escape from them — not even at home.

Fifteen million persons in the United States have some degree of hearing loss.

"Better Use a Bigger One Before I Do"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON SAYS:
SEC May Be Sitting On Financial Dynamite; You Never Can Tell Who You'll Sit Beside
At Washington Dinner
Parties: Oil Senators Will Stage
Friendly Diversionary Probe
Of Oil Industry.

WASHINGTON. — With ex-President Hoover warning that our present economy has some of the earmarks of the depression that hit his administration, and with Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey talking about a possible depression that would "make your hair curl," this is the time to watch the organization set up to watch the stock market—the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Things have changed around the SEC in the past four years. All you have to do is look at its personnel to understand how much it has changed.

When the SEC was first established under Roosevelt to police the stock market, FDR appointed to it some of the best brains in the nation. Its commissioners included Justice William O. Douglas, now on the Supreme Court; Ferdinand Pecora, later on the New York Supreme Court; Joseph
K. Kennedy, later ambassador to England; the late Judge Jerome Frank of the U. S. Court of Appeals; James Landis, later chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board; Sumner Pike, later on the Atomic Energy Commission; Leon Henderson, later OPA administrator; Harry McDonald; Ganson
Purcell; and others.

In those days, SEC commissioners took the initiative in watching Wall Street. They didn't wait for financial murders to be committed first. They took action to prevent the murders.

Under Eisenhower, however, the SEC started playing brazen, amazing politics when it ignored a lengthy telegram from J. D.
Stietzenroth, the secretary of Mississippi Power and Light, a Dixon-Yates subsidiary, warning that the company had filed false figures with the SEC.

The name of the law establishing the SEC is the "truth-in-securities" act, meaning that anyone who sells stocks and bonds must file a statement with the SEC and tell the truth.

"I desire to withdraw each and every financial figure and any and all data which are included in the registration statements," Stietzenroth telegraphed.

He referred to the proposed stock flotation of Middle South Utilities and Mississippi Power and Light, part of the Dixon-Yates combine.

Yet, despite this warning from high official of the combine, the SEC allowed the stock flotation next day. Previous SEC commissioners would have held extensive hearings. But the new SEC, un-worried about protecting the investing public, didn't wait a minute.

Meanwhile, likable, inexperienced, young J. Sinclair Armstrong, chairman of the SEC, is sitting on several kegs of financial dynamite, but doesn't seem to know it.

SURPRISE DINNER PARTNERS

At a dinner given in honor of the Chief Justice and Mrs. Warren the other night, a lady who doesn't always approve of everything in this column but tolerates living with its author, found herself seated beside the attorney general, Herbert Brownell. Mrs.

P is always suffering from things she finds written in her husband's newspaper column over which she has no control. But she is usually equal to the occasion. In this case she said:

"Washington is never dull, Mr.
Brownell. When you go out to dinner in New York you can always be sure exactly what is going to happen. You sit down beside Mrs. Rumpelmeier or Mrs. Les-cargot and they'll tell you all about the weather and their clubs and their children.

"But in Washington you never know whom you'll sit beside.
Imagine finding yourself sitting by me."

"I admit," replied the attorney general, "I might have found myself disconcerted sitting beside your husband."

DIVERSIONARY OIL PROBE

There's some interesting backstage wire-pulling behind the fact that two separate Senate committees are investigating oil. It points toward the door of potent, personable, oil-conscious Lyndon senator from oil-rich Texas.

Sen. Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming began investigating oil last summer. An inexperienced, relentless trust-buster, O'Mahoney can be depended on to do a good job. Backstopping him and working with him as new chairman of the Anti-Monopoly subcommittee is Estes Kefauver, another uncompromising trust-buster. Their committee asked for $300,000 to carry on a comprehensive probe of all monopoly — including oil — only to have the Rules committee scale this down to $225,000.

When the matter came up on the Senate floor, the Anti-Monopoly subcommittee asked for an additional $25,000. Instead of getting it, $50,000—twice that much —was dropped out of clear Senate skies into the lap of the Senate

Interstate and Foreign Commerce committee for a rival probe of oil.
It was an astute diversionary move. For this committee is headed by Washington's charming, easy-going Sen. Warren Magnuson. Serving on the Commerce committee with him are Texas' new senator, William Blakely, whom Johnson expressly put on this committee; also the following senators who voted with the big natural gas boys last year:
Pastore (R. I.), Monroney (Okla.), Smathers (Fla.), Thurmond (S. C.), all Democrats; and Bricker (Ohio), Schoeppel
(Kans.) Butler (Md.), Payne
(Me.), and Cotton (N. H.), all Republicans.

With this extraordinary line-up of pro-gas-oil senators doing the investigating on the Commerce committee, the oil lobby can figure the two-fisted probe of the Anti-Monopoly committee will be either counteracted or blocked out.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

Attorney General Brownell has sent an investigator to Boston to look into the question of an antitrust suit against the Boston Herald and Traveler for threatening to put the Boston Globe out of business. The Pennsylvania railroad paid Senator Bricker's law firm in Columbus, Ohio $25, 593 last year. Bricker, incidentally, helped bottle up a bill in the Senate last year which would have penalized eastern railroads for failing to return borrowed freight cars.

There is a great lesson in this

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Footprints on the ceiling bother us. We seldom see them and when we do we wonder whether some prankster has climbed up and intentionally marred the clean surface with a footlike smudge. In any case footprints do not belong above our heads. Gravity does not permit our walking in the opposite direction of its force.

Those who have found peace in their walk with God are just as disturbed by the footprints of hatred and war on the earth, where they do not belong. The footprints are frequently made by pranksters who would upset a decent world for personal ambition or for some demonic desire to make others suffer.

Those who harm God's children and upset love in the universe will be judged more severely than they may be judged in human courts. It were better that they had not been born.

Iowa Farm Boy Selected as Easter Seal Child

CHICAGO (AP) — A freckle-faced, 5-year-old Iowa farm boy was chosen today as the 1957 Easter Seal child.

Little Walter Bill Cash, who wants to be a farmer despite a paralyzed left leg he suffered in a polio attack, was named by the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults to represent thousands of crippled youngsters in the Easter Seal campaign starting March 15.

Walter Bill will visit the White House to meet Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, officially opening the drive. He will make personal appearances on network television shows.

Walter Bill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cash, owners of a 160-acre farm at Clear Lake, Iowa.

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Gov. William G. Stratton Wednesday announced the appointment of four men and one woman to state positions.

William E. Fay, Joliet, Leonard S. Florsheim, Highland Park, and Paul S. Millikin, Danville, were reappointed to the State Housing Board. W. W. Gilmore, Freeport, was named to the same board.

Mrs. Jane Gundry, Galena, was named to succeed the late Rep. Maud N. Peppers on the Youth Commission Advisory Board.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloot or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thirty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to s-t-r-e-t-c-h and stimulate it to action; to a normal urge to purge. And, of all laxatives, only COLONAL, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAL's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONAL's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAL is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy. Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAL neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions. It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAL exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONAL, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Great Pretender

Pleads Guilty to False Pretenses As Schoolmaster; Was War Doctor

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP)—Pudgy Ferdinand Waldo Demara Jr., the 20th Century's "great pretender," pleaded guilty in Municipal Court today to a charge of cheating by false pretenses.

Demara told Judge Frank E. Southard Jr. he would take advantage of a new Maine law enabling him to waive indictment procedure and be sentenced later today in Superior Court on a criminal information.

Officials at Augusta city jail, where Demara was kept overnight, said they had received calls from points as far away as Texas, California and Canada asking about the welfare of the ingenious poser.

His latest fraud was as schoolmaster at the North Haven High school. Demara, who convinced the Royal Canadian Navy he was a surgeon and performed delicate operations during the Korean war, was not able to fool a canny resident of North Haven, a remote island off the Maine coast.

But the 36-year-old Demara, who never received a high school diploma, succeeded in deceiving almost everyone else on the island in his role as a high school Latin and English teacher—including the principal.

Senate Probers Give Beck Choice of Turning Over Records Or Face Subpena

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate labor racket investigators today gave Teamsters Union President Dave Beck the implied choice of voluntarily turning over his personal financial records or taking his chances on a subpoena.

Beck is in Europe and cannot be subpoenaed until he returns to the United States. He has said he will return about March 26.

But Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) of the labor racket committee has asked Beck to have his attorney or aides furnish all his personal records from 1950 to date.

The special eight-man committee was reported to be issuing subpoenas for many other officials of the 1.4 million-member Teamsters Union, which apparently will be the first target of the labor racketeering investigation.

See Congress Approval of Hike In Bond Interest

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress reacted cautiously but appeared likely today to wind up approving a Treasury Department request for higher interest on government savings bonds.

The Treasury Thursday asked permission to boost the interest rate, retroactive to Feb. 1, to 3 1/4 per cent from the present 3 per cent. The aim is to make the bonds more attractive for investors, including persons on pay-roll savings plans.

In recent months the value of bonds cashed in has exceeded the value of those sold.

Among members of Congress there was no immediate rush to applaud or condemn the proposal. Key members declined to commit themselves in advance of a careful study. Others were waiting for public reaction.

But despite the "wait and see" attitude in Congress, there was widespread belief among members that Congress eventually would go along with the Treasury proposal.

The House Ways and Means Committee announced it would open hearings next Thursday on the legislation drafted by the Treasury. The bill would give the Treasury flexible authority to increase interest on 'E' and 'H' bonds to as high as 4 1/4 per cent. But officials said only a 1 1/4 per cent increase was planned.

Metropolis Site Considered for Multi-Million Dollar Plant

METROPOLIS, Ill. (AP)—An industrial committee here expects to know "within a week" whether a multi-million dollar uranium salts plant will be located near the city.

The Allied Chemical Corp. of New York is considering four sites for the plant which will process uranium salts for the Atomic Energy Commission.

Allen Brannon, a member of the committee, said "We feel our chances are excellent."

Allied chemical has 600 acres of land under lease northwest of here. The options on the land will expire March 1.

An estimated 280,400 persons will be employed in the uranium salts plant operation.

Stratton to Sponsor Youth Fitness Conference in May

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton announced today his sponsorship of a youth fitness conference to be held early in May.

The conference, part of the national program to investigate the fitness of American youth, will be held at Allerton Park, Monticello, May 3 through 7.

Dr. Shane McCarthy, executive director of President Eisenhower's council on youth fitness will address the conference.

About 100 conference invitations will be issued by Stratton.

Government Mint Reports Increased Demand for Pennies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The mint is stepping up its output of pennies to meet a big increase in demand.

Mint Director William H. Brett discussed the problem in closed-door testimony before the House Appropriations subcommittee, released today.

He reported the government plans to produce 1,427,000,000 pennies in the year which starts July 1. This compared with an estimated 1,093,000,000 this year.

"The thing that makes the demand is the fact that there has been a change in the monetary habits of the public," he said. "We have sales taxes, vending machines, and all types of odd pricing such as $3.98 and so on."

Dispute Grows Over Probe of Girls' Slaying

BULLETIN
CHICAGO (AP)—Harry Glos, chief investigator for the coroner's office, was fired today after charging that medical evidence in the Grimes murder case was suppressed.

CHICAGO (AP)—Chief of Detectives Patrick Deeley confirmed today that there is evidence the older of the Grimes sisters had sexual intercourse before she was slain.

Deeley's statement added fuel to a growing dispute over official handling of the investigation.

Harry Glos, coroner's investigator, evoked the new hassle Thursday when he charged a "cover up" of the medical findings in the slaying of Barbara Grimes, 15, and Patricia, 13.

Deeley said chemist Claude Hazen of the crime laboratory had found evidence that Barbara had sex relations before she died.

Deeley said the findings were kept secret to aid the investigation.

He said there was no evidence that the girls had been beaten. As far as he knows, Deeley said, death was due to secondary shock and exposure, as reported by a team of pathologists who examined the bodies.

Glos, a former suburban Oak Park policeman, charged Thursday that the sisters had been beaten, tortured and sexually molested.

"This may cost me my job," Glos said in an informal news conference, "but I cannot sleep knowing things are being covered up."

Says Benny Best Suspect

The investigator also said evidence indicated the girls were murdered a week or two after their disappearance and that Benjie (The Dishwasher) Bedwell, 21, a Skid Row drifter, still is the best suspect.

Bedwell, who first confessed and then denied the slayings, is free on $20,000 bond. A hearing on two murder charges against him was continued Thursday until Feb. 23.

McCarron later assailed Glos as being scientifically untrained to dispute the findings of pathologists and the state toxicologist who conducted exhaustive tests of the victims' bodies.

The scientists concluded the girls, Barbara Grimes, 15, and Patricia, 13, died a short time after they disappeared Dec. 28 while on their way home from a movie.

Their bodies, nude and frozen, were found Jan. 22 in a ditch along the city's southwest outskirts.

The doctors also reported there was no evidence the girls had been abused in any way, although portions of the medical report were withheld from the public. They blamed the girls' deaths on exposure.

Three Children Burn to Death

PEKIN, Ill. (AP)—Three children burned to death today when fire swept through their trailer home.

The children's mother had left the trailer only a few minutes before the fire broke out to visit a neighbor. The father was at work.

Burned to death were Sandra, 4, Jackie, 3, and Belle, 11 months, all children of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Biggs.

The mother, Wilma, said the children were in bed when she left the trailer. It was believed the fire was caused by an oil burner explosion.

The princess, on the town for the third night in a row, went to see "The Girl Can't Help It," starring Jayne Mansfield and Tom Ewell.

Eisenhower Accepts Ross Resignation

Defense Secretary Denies Basis for Conflict of Interest

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP)—The White House today accepted claims of resigning Assistant Defense Secretary Robert Tripp Ross that there was no basis for his involvement in a conflict-of-interest furore.

President Eisenhower Thursday night accepted Ross' resignation effective Feb. 20 or shortly afterward "in spite of your conviction that nothing you have done violates any legal or ethical standards," according to White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) said his Senate investigating subcommittee will make no further inquiry into huge military clothing contracts awarded firms operated by Ross' wife and brother-in-law, unless something new turns up.

A late-day telephone conference between the President and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles apparently produced further administration satisfaction with congressional action on Mr. Eisenhower's Middle East doctrine.

President Eisenhower's slight but prolonged "scratchy throat" was tentatively blamed variously on a cold he developed during the inaugural ceremonies last month and exposure to dust during his recent drought inspection trip in the Southwest.

Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, the President's physician, maintained there was no reason for concern. The cough was noticed again Thursday on the Glen Arden Country Club course, but he appeared to be in excellent physical condition.

The President apparently has not set any definite date for ending his vacation stay on the plantation estate of Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey.

Explosion Rocks Clinton; 2 Hurt

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP)—An explosion rocked a Negro district of this racially troubled town Thursday night, injuring two persons and damaging 30 homes and a Negro restaurant.

Police said the blast, the eighth since Clinton's publicized school integration riots, apparently was from a dynamite-crammed suitcase left on a sidewalk.

Negro witnesses to the blast said one occupant of a crowded car placed the suitcase on a sidewalk near the home of Alfred Williams, a 21-year-old Negro student who recently was suspended from high school for striking a 15-year-old white boy.

The witnesses said they believed the man who got out of the car was white.

One Negro said he "smelled the fuse" burning in the suitcase and ran. Seconds later, the explosion occurred, bringing Negro families rushing from their homes. Injured were an 11-month-old girl and a 39-year-old woman. They were not hospitalized.

Several homes were badly damaged. Many had smashed porches, roofs and windows.

Soviets Order Expulsion of INS Correspondent

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government ordered the expulsion of International News Service correspondent Charles Hugh Klensch today for "speculation" in the sale of goods and spreading anti-Soviet literature.

Klensch, who has been in Moscow for three years, has been attacked twice in the Soviet press in the past two months for "speculation." By this term it was meant he sold old clothes and a camera to state-operated second-hand stores.

At the time Klensch sold the old clothes, this was permitted. But since then foreigners have been barred from selling goods.

Klensch described the "anti-Soviet literature" which he gave to Russian acquaintances as the Magazine Life, Science Fiction and some British newspapers.

Demo Leaders Attend National Committee Meeting

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A call for a strong civil rights stand highlights a two-day meeting of the Democratic National Committee that begins today.

More than 1,000 Democratic leaders, including Adlai Stevenson and National Chairman Paul Butler, gathered for the committee's first meeting to be held west of the Mississippi River.

Featuring a "western viewpoint," the conference emphasized panel and section meetings on such topics as water and power development, conservation and reclamation, agriculture, and statehood for Alaska and Hawaii.

The committee also takes up the issue of foreign policy, small business, labor, social security and maritime and shipping, in addition to the explosive issue of civil rights.

Meeting simultaneously was the newly formed Democratic Advisory Committee.

Carpentier Opposes County Distribution Of Auto Licenses

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier said Thursday he will oppose automobile license distribution on a county basis for "reasons of economy."

Carpentier said the county distribution method would cost "a great deal more money" than the present centralized system.

A number of bills calling for a revamped distribution system have already been introduced before the General Assembly.

Truman Invited to Turkey, Greece; Visit is Endorsed by Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Truman is considering an informal invitation to visit Greece and Turkey early next month, it was learned today. President Eisenhower has warmly endorsed the idea of such a visit.

Mr. Truman has been asked by the two nations whether he would attend ceremonies commemorating the 10th anniversary of his historic (Truman) Doctrine, under which U. S. aid was given Greece and Turkey to combat Communism.

The idea of asking the former President to make the trip originated in Athens and Ankara. But Mr. Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles have given the proposal their strong endorsement.

Behind-the-scenes liaison on the Truman trip indicates that a major move is underway to heal the foreign policy breach between the Republican and Democratic parties.

Mr. Truman on at least two occasions has given his warm approval to the Eisenhower Doctrine aimed at saving the Middle East from Communism. He has urged that Congress give speedy approval to the program and has said he would vote for it if he were a member of the Senate.

Mr. Truman, it was learned, first heard of the proposed invitation Monday night when Dulles, with Mr. Eisenhower's approval, telephoned Mr. Truman at Islamorada in the Florida Keys. Mr. Truman is vacationing there with Mrs. Truman.

March 10 Suggested
Dulles informed Mr. Truman that the Greek and Turkish governments would like to invite him to visit the two countries for the anniversary ceremonies. The week of March 10 was suggested for the ceremonies.

Mr. Truman was reported to have expressed "interest" in the proposed trip. But he was unable to give a quick answer because of an already heavy schedule which would have to be rearranged.

Salukis Drop 69-58 Conference Tilt to Eastern

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Eastern Illinois, outscored 21 baskets to 15, turned to the free throw line here Thursday night to sink Southern Illinois, 69-58, in an Interstate Conference game. The Panthers, whose record is now 3-6 in the conference, zeroed in on 39 of 51 free throw attempts to stop the Salukis. Eastern also received two big breaks. In the first half Southern went 15 minutes without scoring a field goal, and the Salukis had a 10-minute famine in the last half. Eastern led at halftime, 31-25.

Lloyd Ludwig scored only one fielder, but he hit 13 free throws to lead Eastern with 15 points. Charlie Session, Frank Wolf and J. B. Smith added 11 each for the Panthers, who are now 9-9 overall. Seymour Bryson was Southern's big gun. He won high honors with 17 points. Larry Whitlock chipped in with 14. The Salukis are now 11-9 for the season and 3-5 in the conference.

HTHS Senior Guard On Sick List

Measles has invaded the Harrisburg high school varsity basketball squad and put one member on the inactive list on the eve of a big week end of play. It was reported from the HTHS this morning that Charles Cummings, senior guard, was on the sick list with the disease that has been hitting school students of all ages.

Advance Guard of Major League Teams Hard at Work in Training

By United Press
Spring training won't start officially for another two weeks but the "advance guard" of the diamond horde already is hard at work. The "advance guard"—consisting mostly of batterymen and top prospects from minor league farms—got down to serious business Thursday when both the world champion New York Yankees and the St. Louis Cardinals opened their rookie acceleration schools. And, today, the New York Giants' contingent of 20 players, coaches, etc., begins "boiling out" in the Buckhorn Mineral Baths at Mesa, Ariz.

With the week, they'll be joined by just about every other major league club eager to lay the groundwork for fast getaways when the March 1 spring training deadline is reached.

Manager Casey Stengel welcomed 12 players to the Yankees' rookie school which has produced such stars as Bob Grim and Johnny Kucks. Stengel said he hoped to come up with an additional pitcher from this year's group and the No. 1 prospect, so far, is Al Cicotte, a 15-game winner with Richmond of the International League last season.

The Cardinals, who also train at St. Petersburg, Fla., came out 27 strong under the eye of Manager Fred Hutchinson and his staff. Hutchinson broke the players in Thursday during the hottest part of the day but has scheduled regular workouts for 9:30 in the morning.

Six pitchers, three catchers and a group of other players including Red Schoendienst, Dusty Rhodes, Hank Thompson, Don Mueller and Hank Sauer were in Mesa along with Manager Bill Rigney and his Giant staff.

'Victory Caravans' For Cage Games By HTHS Students

"Victory Caravans" are being sponsored by the Harrisburg Township high school students this week end as the Bull Dogs take to the road for two basketball games.

Tonight Harrisburg plays at Benton in a South Seven game and Saturday night the Bull Dogs face a Saline county rival—the Eldorado Eagles—at Eldorado.

Car "pools" are being organized so that every student wishing to attend the games will have transportation. Students planning to take an automobile to either Benton or Eldorado are inviting others to accompany them and townspeople are asked to do likewise.

The slogan is "Back the Bull Dogs—Go to Benton and Eldorado."

Michigan State Appears Best Darkhorse in Field For Big Ten Championship

CHICAGO — The Big Ten basketball race, hardly half over, shaped up today as the tightest in 31 years. And the newest member of the conference, Michigan State, appeared the best darkhorse in the field.

Indiana, with six wins in eight starts, held a full game advantage over the Spartans, who tied for third with a 5-3 record. But eighth place Iowa has suffered only two more losses than the Hoosiers with a 3-4 conference mark.

Michigan State had two solid reasons for support as the potential champion. The Spartans have the longest winning streak in the league, five games, and are the only club in the circuit with a winning record on the road.

In games away from home, traditionally the jinx of the title pretenders, Michigan State has won three of four outings. Every other team has more losses than wins on the road. The second-best record is shared by Ohio State, Purdue and Minnesota, each with two wins and three defeats.

Indiana, despite its position at the top of the heap, has been beaten twice in three starts away from home. Before the season ends the Hoosiers may settle the title in their last road game of the season, at Michigan State on March 2.

Overall this season, home teams have won 28 and lost 13 in Big Ten play. Indiana has been unbeaten at home in five games and Ohio State and Illinois in four. But the Buckeyes, who set the early pace, have lost their last three games to topple to second place, and Illinois lost its last two games on the road, including one at Michigan State.

Indiana has more road games left than any other team except Iowa and Wisconsin, which has lost six of seven starts, including all road appearances. Of the top four teams, the Hoosiers must play away from home four times, Ohio State twice and Michigan State and Illinois three times each.

Hoosiers Play Northwestern in Saturday TV Tilt

CHICAGO — Midwest TV viewers will get a chance to see Big Ten basketball leader Indiana and the league's top marksman, Archie Dees, Saturday afternoon.

The pace-setting Hoosiers and their high-scoring center, Dees, now averaging better than 22 points a game, play Northwestern at Evanston in a game starting at 1:30 p. m. CST.

The game is the first of a full conference card Saturday. In evening contests, Wisconsin, glowing from its first win in seven starts last Monday, tackles second place Ohio State at Columbus. Iowa will try to end Michigan State's winning streak of five games on the Spartan floor. Illinois, early season favorite with a current 5-3 record, will play at Michigan, and Purdue goes to Minnesota.

Galatia Third With 62-60 Win Over Dorrisville

Harrisburg romped past Grayville 64-43 in the championship game of the Norris City Junior high school regional tournament Thursday night and Galatia took third place honors with a nip-and-tuck 62-60 victory over Dorrisville in the consolation game.

Harrisburg experienced lots of trouble in the first half, trailing by various margins until the game was tied 19-19 with 3:45 remaining in the second quarter, the score again was knotted 21-21 and 23-23, but at the halftime intermission

Grayville was in front 25-23. With 6:30 showing on the clock in the third frame Harrisburg went on top 27-25 and was never headed, although Grayville did pull to a 28-28 tie later in the period. At the end of the third quarter Harrisburg held a 46-33 advantage.

In the final frame Harrisburg played deliberate ball, forcing Grayville to come out for the ball and the first fourteen points scored were on free throws. There was only :58 left in the game before a local field goal was scored.

The consolation game was close all the way, although for one short period Dorrisville was in front as much as six points and later Galatia held two 7-point leads, but not for long.

The two clubs had played four games previously, each winning two and at halftime last night Galatia Coach Menard Hawkins remarked "We have now played four and one-half games this season and Galatia and Dorrisville have scored the same number of points."

Late in the game Galatia threatened to pull away, taking a 57-50 and later a 62-55 lead, but Dorrisville came back to within two points as the game closed.

Following the championship game trophies were awarded to all four teams in the final round of play.

Harrisburg and Grayville both will play in the state tournament, site and dates to be determined this week end.

Woman and Man Seized by FBI For Bad Checks

DETROIT — A man and woman accused of cashing bad checks in seven states were seized by the FBI Thursday in suburban Ferndale.

Agents said John Kerschke Jr., 29, and Mrs. Jean Brooks Jr., 26, posed as man and wife during the five-month period in which they allegedly cashed bad checks in Florida, Maryland, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Missouri, Illinois and California.

According to agents, the couple preyed on antique dealers, purchasing antiques and then writing checks exceeding by $40 or $50 the amount the dealer charged.

Kerschke and Mrs. Brooks previously lived in suburban Detroit. The FBI said. The man, a father of one child, and the woman, the mother of three children, deserted their families, agents reported.

The FBI said the couple went through a wedding ceremony in Phoenix, Ariz., under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Kurt von Richter.

Cass thought about what Sue had said to her last night. And, as she thought, indignation returned, renewing itself with each contemplation of Sue's charge. "Some of your mistakes are dillies," had said Sue.

Let people like Sue Knapp be given such problems as had fallen to Cass, and see what mistakes they would make! No one—literally no one could talk understandingly of such a situation unless she had experienced it.

As the minutes went by, she began to talk aloud, and someone in the kitchen heard her. "I thought to my soul it was Miss Cordy!" said Sue.

Cass stopped short. Aunt Cordy used to go about talking to herself. Only last night Marcy had said, and impudently, "Cass, you sound just like Aunt Cordy!"

At nine, she was somewhat surprised to have Marcy and Jake, hand in hand, show up in the dining room for breakfast. Jake was fresh-shaven, with a clean white shirt, Marcy was crisp in a yellow linen dress and white pumps.

"Good morning, Cass," they said in unison.

Then—"Weather's still pretty slimy, isn't it?" said Marcy blithely.

"Are the roads open?" asked Jake.

"I have a man cutting up that tree—you'll be able to get out in an hour," said Cass. "Marcy, did you call the shop?" She noted how radiant the two were.

Cass smiled at them vaguely, went into the kitchen, and came back—still preoccupied.

"What's wrong with you?" Marcy asked her.

"Nothing," said Cass shortly. "Oh, I'm busy—"

"That doesn't explain your fingernail chewing," said Marcy.

Involuntarily, Cass lifted her hand, then clenched it.

"Oh, something Sue said last night upset me. Of course she was in a mood to lash out at someone—but even then I don't see how I can be accused of making mistakes—she called them dillies—when I've been trying harder than anyone knows to do the right thing."

"Oh," said Marcy, buttering a biscuit. "You do make some downright gawdy mistakes. Some of 'em are just silly, but the others—why, I'd say, on the whole, your batting average might come darn close to Aunt Cordy's. And that's the world record." She ate half the biscuit, picked up the other half and reached for the strawberry jam.

Cass drew in her breath in shocked protest. "Marcy Ward!" she cried. "You rude, you impudent—" Her voice stopped as if a switch had been turned.

She had sounded like Aunt Cordy! She did sound like her.

"If this is some poke, Marcy—" she began, her lips stiff with affront.

"No," said Marcy, considering the chosen word. "Not a joke, dear. It's more—I'm quite sure—an honest mistake on your part."

"I've things to do this morning," said Cass, coldly patient, "but even so I believe I must ask you for an explanation of that, Marcy."

She did love telling it, the whole farcical situation—and Cass listened to her, stunned, horrified.

"But—you two—" she gasped.

"No," said Marcy, sweetly, "nevertheless, Jake's all set to make an honest woman of me."

With that, Jake Parmenter had had enough. He pushed his chair back and stood up, his smile rueful. "I need some air," he announced his retreat from this feminine skirmish.

"He's Jake Parmenter," said Marcy quickly. "Major Jake Parmenter, Army Intelligence. You see, the Army is looking for Lee—"

"Your husband?" Cass's attention sharpened.

"Lee Powers. Lately of the U.

Wildlife at Pesky Stage in Area

Believe Wild Dogs, Coyotes Mistaken for Wolves

CARBONDALE, Ill. (UP)—Wild canines are getting to the pesky stage in some southern Illinois areas.

Some farmers say they are wolves. A Southern Illinois University wildlife specialist here believes in most cases farmers are mistaking wild dogs or coyotes for wolves.

Even a "bobcat" has been reported in action up to the point where domesticated dogs killed him.

Recent "wolf" kills have been reported in Johnson, White, Lawrence and Wabash counties. A farmer living near Goreville in Johnson County said he lost 20 sheep during the winter to wild animals, some of which ran in packs.

Dr. Willard Klimstra, director of co-operative wildlife research at SIU, says the canines definitely are not timber wolves.

Farmers Up in Arms

"We just don't have any timber wolves around here," the specialist says. "They generally weigh between 175 and 200 pounds."

Klimstra says coyotes — also known sometimes as prairie wolves — or wild dogs, probably the latter, are making forays against sheep and other farm animals.

"It's possible that the marauder may be a cross between a coyote and wild dog," says Klimstra. "It has been authenticated that they cross-breed sometimes."

Klimstra says coyotes weigh from 25 to 40 pounds.

Farmers got up in arms and organized a "wolf drive" at Goreville recently. Eighty-five armed men didn't kill any wolves—although a couple were spotted—but did bag three gray foxes.

J. D. Vandever, Goreville High School principal, says the animals spotted in the area are not wild dogs. "They are gray and shaggy and quite tall," he says.

Are Getting Bolder

Vandever says the animals are spotted lying in the fields in the daytime. He believes they sometimes hole up in several abandoned farm houses and barns in the area.

"Whatever they are, they are getting bolder," he says.

Their eerie calls are heard late in the night and early morning when a diesel train's whistle startles them in the craggy hills.

Farmers in the Golconda area at Pope County are fearful of a bobcat invasion after a farmer living in the south part of the county shot one as it fought his dogs in the backyard.

It was the first bobcat spotted in six years in the Pope County area.

Klimstra says that about three years ago a farmer was attacked by a bobcat in his orchard.

The specialist says his staff is trying to check on as many of the wild animal kills as possible in its studies.

Different theories have been advanced on how come coyotes are showing up in various parts of southern Illinois.

Some say they may be unknowingly transported in large pipelines on trucks from the Oklahoma oil country.

In some cases, persons have bought young coyotes as pets on trips out west, and turned them loose as they grew older.

Girl, 8, Fatally Crushed by 10-Foot High Ice Statue

DULUTH, Minn. (UP)—An eight-year-old girl was crushed to death Thursday night when a 10-foot high ice statue toppled over on her.

Lisa Rosenthal was watching the Snow Week celebration with a group of other children on the University of Minnesota's Duluth campus after a St. Valentine's Day skating party.

As the youngster gazed up at the icy replica of a skier, it suddenly tilted from its base and crashed down on her. Authorities said the statue weighed several hundred pounds.

Secret Service Tells of Threat On Ike by Boy, 12

WASHINGTON (UP)—The story of how King Harry I of Harrisonia made a threat on the life of President Eisenhower unfolded today.

Secret Service chief U. E. Baughman told the tale in newly-released testimony before a House appropriations subcommittee.

Baughman said a threatening letter signed by "King Harry I of Harrisonia" was one of 18,468 letters to the President examined by his staff last year.

This letter told the President that if he objected to the formation of a new state he would "have to reason with a 22 Winchester," Baughman said.

Agents investigated. They had little trouble tracking down the sender whose name actually was something like Harry Harrison. Baughman said he changed the name somewhat in his testimony.

Agents found that Harry, 12 years old, and his playmates had sent in breakfast cereal boxtops which entitled them each to a deed for a square inch of land in Alaska.

Harry and his friends decided to band together, form their own country and secede from the Union.

Baughman said the boy got off with a "severe lecture" from his mother.

"He did not realize the seriousness of his threat against the President and when the possible consequences were explained to him, he replied 'I surrender. I am now a citizen again,'" Baughman said.
